THE BUSINESS OF WINNING

Speaker Introduction

Mark Gallagher's public speaking career began in 1998 when he was asked to speak for BT at a major management conference in Vienna, joining Mikhail Gorbachev and the President of Sony Europe in delivering key note addresses. Little did he know that the inaugural speech he delivered was to be the first of hundreds of 'content-rich' business speaking appearances, made at a wide range of corporate events over the next 14 years.

From Head of Cosworth's F1™ Business Unit and Head of Commercial Affairs at Jaguar / Red Bull Racing, to Marketing Director at Jordan Grand Prix, Mark has been immersed in the motorsport industry his whole working life.

Today, besides being the driving force behind his own team, Status Grand Prix, he commentates on F1 races for ESPN Star Sports and is internationally respected in the public speaking circuit – relaying the business lessons that can be derived from creating winning teams in this highly competitive world; one where performance is everything.
